Nation Obligated to Its Veterans, Newby Tells Memorial Day Throng

Legion Official Delivers Address At Services Here

Declaring that the cost of war does not cease with the signing of treaties, Chester Newby yesterday told a Memorial Day gathering of the obligations the public in general and the service organizations in particular have in seeing that affected war veterans receive the benefits to which they are entitled.

Newby, organization officer of the Illinois department of the American Legion, said that "we are dedicated to the principles of justice, freedom and democracy, and let us realize that we in accepting them must know and accept our responsibilities of citizenship."

Then he told of the present living casualties of war: 91,000 tuberculosis cases resulting from wartime service, 451,330 mentally ill from all wars, 1,528,003 injury and general medical cases that need hospitalization and treatment, and 1,478,000 others whose ailments or injuries are rated 10 per cent or less.

Obligation of Nation

"These millions are the ones we organizations are dedicated to serve," Newby stated. "Four billion dollars a year is the cost. This is an obligation of the nation because the cost of war does not end with the signing of treaties."

Newby said the four billion dollars a year is a drop in the bucket of major government subsidies today, and compared with the amount sent overseas.

The event started with a parade on Sloan from McKinley street to Sunset Lawn cemetery. Besides the local units, there was the drum and bugle corps of the Carbondale National Guard company.

First event there was the VFW auxiliary ceremony at the VFW Memorial. There Mrs. Hollie Stout and Mrs. Emma Shanks, president, took the speaking parts as other members stood at attention and Mrs. Shanks placed a wreath at the Memorial. After a song by John Schork and prayer by Walter Zink, there was a salute by the Legion-VFW firing squad and the sounding of Taps.

At the miniature cemetery Merle Dailey, commander of the Legion post, presided. After the invocation by the Rev. Elmer Grisham, Dailey introduced Charles Shanks, VFW post commander; Mrs. Emma Shanks, VFW auxiliary president; Mrs. Marian Humm, Legion auxiliary president; Lowell Hill, 24th district commander; Frank Chamness, Spanish-American War veteran; and Mr. Newby.

Gold Star Mothers Present

The Harrisburg high school band directed by Marshall Cothran, which had marched in the parade, played a number and John Schork sang "America." Mrs. John Schwartz gave a tribute to the Gold Star mothers which ended with a prayer, after which Mrs. Humm and Mrs. Shanks gave corsages to the following Gold Star mothers present: Mary Leskis, Anna Lutwinski,

Three States to Join Friday in Bridge Opening

Representatives from three states—Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana—will participate in ceremonies formally opening the new Ohio river bridge from Shawneetown, Ill., to Union county, Ky., starting at 2 p. m. Friday, June 1.

Lt. Gov. Harry Waterfield of Kentucky will deliver the principal address and cut the ribbon which will allow the start of traffic across the new river-spanning structure.

The program, co-sponsored by the two counties directly connected by the bridge, Gallatin county, Ill., and Union county, Ky., will feature speeches, band music and a parade of old time cars. Master of ceremonies will be Jess, Thomas, assistant commissioner of revenue for Kentucky.

The invocation will be by Rev. H. T. Chandler of the Morganfield Methodist church and singing will be directed by Mrs. Gale Brashers of Sturgis.

Top representative of the Illinois state administration will be Edward Pree, administrative assistant to Gov. William Stratton.

Heading the Gallatin county delegation will be County Judge Joe Hale, County Sheriff Millard Holloway, other county officials, Shawneetown Mayor Col. S. Denton and George Scherrer, president of a Shawneetown group that pushed for the construction of the bridge.

In the Kentucky delegation will be Union County Judge Tom Richards, Circuit Judge Faust Y. Simpson of Sturgis and the mayors of nearby cities.

United States Senator Earl C. Clements of Kentucky, a major factor in getting the bridge constructed, may be in attendance, but probably will be in Washington and unable to attend the ceremonies.

The bridge, formally dedicated as the Earl C. Clements Bridge last December, was a project of Senator Clements while he was Union County Judge. His continued interest while Governor of Kentucky and later as Senator was a vital factor in its completion.

Chambers of Commerce from communities in Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana plan to be represented at the ceremonies.

A speakers' platform will be erected in the center of the bridge and the ceremonies, starting about 1 p. m., will be from that point. The ribbon cutting is scheduled for 2 p. m. The bridge will be toll free from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. tomorrow.

Illinois Chalks Up Worst Holiday Traffic Record

16 Persons are Killed on Highways; Two Drownings

By United Press

Illinois chalked up the nation's worst traffic death toll on Memorial Day.

Final figures showed today that 16 persons died on Illinois highways from 6 p. m. Tuesday to midnight Wednesday. There were 2 drownings and 1 death in a plane crash for a violent death toll of 19.

Illinois accounted for 1 out of every 6 traffic deaths in the nation. Only California with 10 highway fatalities approached the sorry Illinois record.

Two Illinois collisions claimed three lives apiece. One occurred early in the holiday near Litchfield, and the other was Wednesday night near McLeansboro.

Two cars collided head-on on U. S. 460 east of McLeansboro, killing Walter L. Springer, 18, Springfield; Rose Mary Blackward, 21, Anna, and Thelma Rademacher, 23, Macedonia. Five others were injured.

There were two traffic deaths at Belleville, one near Lawrenceville, one in Chicago and one near Wheaton. Two men died when a train hit their car at Streator.

The two Belleville victims were Fred Schaeffer, 78, and Kenneth Schneider, 7. Both were killed when they were hit by cars on Belleville streets.

Near Lawrenceville, Earl Hawkins Jr., 26, Robinson, was killed when his car went out of control on Ill. 1, hit a bridge abutment, and burst into flames. The accident happened at 11:40 p. m. just 20 minutes before the end of the one-day holiday.

A Memorial Day outing ended in tragedy for a Chicago family when two little girls wandered from their parents' stalled car.

The girls, Susanne Jones, 10, and Janice, 8, came to a water-filled quarry at the edge of Manteno. They removed their outer clothing to go wading. Police said they apparently went too far. Their bodies were recovered late Wednesday night.

97 Traffic Deaths For Memorial Day; Less Than Predicted

By United Press

Motorists turned in a safer Memorial Day than the National Safety Council had predicted, but the final death count was more than 20 above that of a normal Wednesday in May.

A United Press count from 6 p. m. Tuesday until midnight Wednesday showed 97 traffic deaths across the country. Warm weather contributed to 29 drownings. There were 4 deaths in plane crashes and 21 in miscellaneous accidents. The holiday death total was 151.

Illinois had the worst record during the one-day holiday, posting 16 traffic deaths. There were 13 in California, 7 in Pennsylvania, 5 in Washington, and 4 each in Louisiana, Michigan, Ohio and Texas.

Eisenhower Tells GOP Workers He Will Conduct Energetic Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told cheering GOP campaign workers today that he is feeling fine and intends to campaign for re-election "as cheerfully, energetically and enthusiastically as it is possible to do so."

He said he feels so good that he wouldn't even know he had a heart attack last fall except that "the doctors keep reminding me of it."

Mr. Eisenhower told leaders of the recently reorganized Citizens for Eisenhower movement that "I am perfectly ready to go forward."

He urged them to go out and fight, not only for his own re-election, but also for a Republican Congress.

His voice rose noticeably as he told a group of 500 citizens leaders he will campaign for "clean government, good government, progressive government and government that knows its place and does not interfere with me as I go about my daily business."

He followed this with a quick explanation that his use of the word "me" was generic and referred to "all of us."

"You know, I was ill last fall," he said with a broad grin. "The only way I know about it now is that the doctors keep reminding me of it."

That brought thunderous cheers from the leaders from 40 states assembled here for a three-day campaign conference.

Warning against a campaign complacency, the President said, "it has no place in my vocabulary."

He called for a tremendous get-out-the-vote campaign, saying that when an American citizen votes, "the form of self government justifies itself."

He said the goal of the campaign is to make sure "that this great middle-of-the-road philosophy of government can continue."

White County Man, 2 Women Die in Collision

One Car Out of Control Crashes Into Another Head-On

Three southern Illinois persons were killed and five were injured at 9:10 last night in a head-on crash on Route 460 four miles east of McLeansboro.

Killed instantly was Walter Lee Springer, 18, of Springfield, a community in White county, who was driving one car.

Dying later that night in Vickers Memorial hospital in McLeansboro were Thelma Rademacher, 23, of Macedonia, a community on the Hamilton-Franklin county line; and Rose Mary Blackward, 21, of Anna.

All the bodies were moved to the Gholson funeral home in McLeansboro.

Injured were Val B. Morris, 27, of McLeansboro, driver of the other vehicle; Kile Moles, 22, of McLeansboro; Route 5; Melba Poyner, 20, of Macedonia; William Ray Becker, 19, of Springfield; and Ernest Waggoner, 15, of Enfield.

Miss Poyner, Morris and Moles were hospitalized at the Vickers hospital, where it was reported Miss Poyner was in a serious condition. Becker and Waggoner were treated for injuries and released.

Bleedy Scene
State policemen called to the bloody scene were Sergeant Herbert Bramlet of Equality, Adolph Sweat of Carrier Mills and Carl Pendell of McLeansboro.

Sweat today said that one car, driven by Walter Lee Springer, with Becker and Waggoner his passengers, was travelling east on the highway and that Springer apparently lost control and plowed head-on into the auto driven by Morris, in which Miss Rademacher, Miss Blackward, Miss Poyner, Morris and Moles were riding.

Sweat said that one of the passengers of the Springer car told him that Springer was driving between 70 and 75 miles per hour on wet pavement and lost control. Immediately after the head-on crash occurred, it was reported, a truck driven by Virgil Perrott of Sumner, travelling east, ran into the Morris car. The truck was damaged but Perrott was not hurt.

The bodies of Miss Rademacher and Miss Blackward were moved later to the Mitchell funeral home in Benton. The Springer body remained at the Gholson funeral home in McLeansboro.

Miss Blackward was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Blackward, 1003 North Main, Anna, and Miss Rademacher was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rademacher of the Macedonia community.

Benson to Put Soil Bank Plan Into Effect Immediately

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson announced today that the administration will put the newly enacted soil bank program into effect immediately with "generous" payments to farmers who plow under 1953 crops of corn, wheat, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

He said some farmers who have not yet planted their crops can also qualify for payments by reducing acreage of these "basic crops" below their federal acreage allotments.

Benson's statements at a news conference applied only to the so-called acreage reserve section of the soil bank, which he termed "the heart" of the new farm bill signed last Monday by President Eisenhower. The plan is designed to reduce farm surpluses by paying farmers to reduce reduction of surplus crops.

Regulations governing the longer term "conservation reserve" phase of the program will be announced later, he said.

Eisenhower Prays in Nearly Empty Church for Nation's War Dead

WASHINGTON (U-P) — President Eisenhower prayed in a nearly empty church Wednesday for the nation's gallant war dead.

The President led the nation in the 83rd observance of Memorial Day when he walked from the White House across Lafayette Park and knelt for a few minutes in historic St. John's Episcopal church.

Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker represented Mr. Eisenhower at the traditional ceremonies in Arlington Cemetery. Brucker laid the presidential wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

The President walked bareheaded across the one-block-wide park to St. John's. Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and Air Secretary Donald A. Quarles accompanied him.

A few tourists and benchsitters noticed the unusual sight of the President walking in downtown Washington. Others sitting in the warm sunshine didn't.

When the President entered the small old church, the only person there was an aged woman praying silently.

The four officials entered a pew about 10 rows from the altar and knelt in prayer. Then the President read from the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer.

Brucker told a crowd gathered in the white marble amphitheater of Arlington Cemetery that "America has a greater need than ever before for men and women who are proud to be Americans."

Ceremonies were held at more than 100 other military cemeteries in tribute to the Americans who, in the words of Brucker, took "the hard road for the sake of their country."

Veterans of every conflict from the Civil War to Korea took part in the observance at home and abroad in homage to their fallen comrades.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

There is an aloneness which sometimes closes in on us to the point that one seems to be separated from his surroundings. We feel this loneliness when others are too busy to talk to us or too greatly occupied with their own interests to realize that we exist. We all crave friendship. We all need love.

Those who know God find release from loneliness in His nearness. In moments of despair we talk with God and find Him a good listener. He does not interrupt our stories. He does not scoff at our fears and concerns. God does not tell us to solve our own problems.

God is the kind of friend who gives a sympathetic ear to all our worries and hardships. Quietly He talks to us. He gives us courage and hope. He strengthens our weakness. He lends a helping hand when we would otherwise stumble and fall.

When we err we find God ready and willing to forgive us. God holds no grudges and never passes judgment based on circumstantial evidence. He is ever kind and never indifferent.

The next time you suffer from spiritual claustrophobia just talk to God. After you have talked yourself out, then listen. God will speak to you and you will not be alone.

State Classifies Collection of Lincoln Material

SPRINGFIELD (U-P) — State officials today were classifying and cataloging a collection of historical material on Abraham Lincoln and other Civil War era personalities which gathered dust in a basement storeroom for 20 years.

The collection was unearthed in an old storeroom in the Centennial Building by a records management firm. The firm was hired to evaluate old state records and discard useless material.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said the collection included about 10,000 pictures, books, scrapbooks, diaries and letters, plus some Civil War relics.

A large part of the collection concerns the colorful Civil War Gen. John A. Logan, who served in the State Legislature and the U. S. Congress as well as in the Union Army. It includes notes on the House of Representatives impeachment proceedings against President Andrew Johnson.

Other data concerns Elijah P. Lovejoy, abolitionist editor murdered at Alton in 1837.

Among the Lincoln relics are a piece of board with seven bullets which the President fired while testing a rifle, a piece of cloth lining from his coach, and a wheel from his carriage.

Four Civil War diaries, some 3,000 photographs of Civil War soldiers and battlefield maps of Vicksburg, Gettysburg, Chattanooga and Chickamauga were found in the collection.

Carpenter said the material was part of the adjutant general's collection, but was turned over to the State Historical Library for use by historians.

Group Opens Drive For Illinois Votes For 'Independent'

CHICAGO (U-P) — A campaign to capture Illinois' 27 electoral votes for an "Independent" presidential candidate was announced today.

William T. Pridmore said he is vice chairman of an organization which will file its own full slate of presidential electors with the Illinois secretary of state.

Pridmore said this will give the people "an opportunity to vote for a genuinely conservative presidential candidate."

The organization is operating in conjunction with "For America," which has been dissatisfied with the policies of both major parties. Pridmore said the executive director of the organization is Marion R. Cleveland, Chicago, who backed Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) in the April 10 Illinois primary.

Illinois Youth Commission Opens New Forestry Camp at Ft. Massac

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Establishment of a new forestry camp for the Illinois Youth Commission on the grounds of Fort Massac State park, near Metropolis, was announced today by Governor William G. Stratton.

The new camp for rehabilitation of youthful offenders brings to three the number of such facilities now operating under the Youth Commission. Others are located at Illini State park, near Marseilles, and at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs experimental station in Pope county.

Selection of the historic Fort Massac site for the newest camp was made on the basis of the facilities available in the park and the need for conservation work in the area, according to Robert D. Patton, Youth Commission chairman.

The camps are operated in conjunction with the state Department of Conservation and provide needed forestry work and improvements to park facilities, at the same time giving constructive training to delinquent boys committed to the Youth Commission.

Joseph P. Munday, superintendent of forestry camps for the commission, said that 14 boys are now at the Fort Massac camp, and it is expected that a full complement of 35 will be assigned by the middle of June.

Included in the first contingent were boys previously at the other two camps, in addition to transfers from the Youth Commission reception center and the Illinois State Training School for Boys at St. Charles.

The boys have begun clearing brush, building foot trails and building paths, and constructing picnic facilities at Fort Massac. They are scheduled to begin work soon on a new hunting and fishing area under development at nearby Mermet lake.

Sleeping accommodations are provided in a barracks which the boys themselves helped renovate, and kitchen and dining facilities are being constructed in a park building formerly leased by the Metropolis Lions club.

Safety Council Warns Nation Faces Bloodiest Year

CHICAGO (U-P) — The National Safety Council warned today that the nation is rolling towards the bloodiest year on its highways in history.

If the death rate doesn't stop, the council said, it will reach an all-time record of 42,000 by the end of 1956. The previous record was 39,969 in 1941.

The month of April has already put a new record on the books, the council said. The death count came to 2,960, passing the previous April high of 2,851 in 1953.

But this was only part of a 1956 pattern. The first four months of this year set a record of 11,550 traffic deaths, breaking a record for the period of 11,261 set in 1937.

One third of all the gasoline service stations in the U. S. have no full-time employees.

Waltonville Mine Expected to Reopen Following Fire

WALTONVILLE, Ill. (AP) — The largest coal mine in southern Illinois may go back in operation tonight, a week after a spontaneous combustion fire in a worked-out area closed it down.

Officials at Orient Mine No. 3 said they hope to call the second shift of miners to work. State and federal mine inspectors were to have checked the mine today to see if mining operations could be resumed.

An inspector said the federal mine safety code permits operation of a mine if worked-out areas are either ventilated or sealed off. He said the fire area at Orient No. 3 has been sealed off.

The fire started a week ago tonight in slag and "gob" left from mining operations. It was about a mile from current diggings but the miners were called above ground and the mine was shut down.

A fire last fall shut down the mine for about a month and idled the 580 miners who normally work in the huge slope mine owned by the Freeman Coal Mining Corp.

Marilyn Denies Any Plans to Marry

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Film star Marilyn Monroe has denied that she has any plans to marry her occasional New York escort, playwright Arthur Miller.

The curvaceous blonde Wednesday refused to either confirm or deny that she and Miller, now in Nevada to obtain a divorce, are having a romance. New York gossip columns, however, have itemized for several months that the two had been dating.

In Memoriam
In memory of our husband and father, Otis Threest, who passed away nine years ago today, May 31:
Somewhere back of the sunset,
Where loveliness never dies,
He lives in a land of glory
Mid the blue and gold of the sky.

Gone from us who loved him,
Into the haven of rest,
To the home of our loving Savior,
Sweetly his soul to rest.

His life is a beautiful memory,
His absence a silent grief,
To sleep in God's beautiful garden
In the sunset of perfect peace.
Sadly missed by wife, Janice Threest and children. 284-1

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

With the seasonal increase in nighttime driving, it might be well at this time to review some of the perils facing a motorist when he is called upon to drive after darkness sets in.

Needless to say, the distance you can see ahead is greatly reduced at night. Therefore, you should reduce your speed to such an extent that you will be able to stop in the visible clear distance ahead. It is doubtful that your range of visibility is enough to identify the distance and nature of objects within the few seconds of time in which your vehicle can travel several hundred feet if you are driving at a speed greater than 45 miles per hour. Do not overdrive your lights.

Illinois law states that motorists must dim their headlights when approaching another vehicle proceeding in an opposite direction at night. According to the law, lights should be dimmed when within not less than 350 feet of the approaching vehicle. (Section 111, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.) Avoid Never drive when you become sleepy—whether it be night or day. Either change drivers or pull off the road and take a nap.

A copy of the completely new "Rule of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

L. J. Herne, President

Pat Flaherty to Receive the Payoff Tonight for Winning '500' Classic

Record of 11 Accidents, But Only Three Hurt

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Freckle-faced and red-headed Pat Flaherty, racing's real-life "Huck Finn," gets a story-book payoff tonight for shaking off two crashes with the speedway wall in the past to win the 40th annual 500 mile classic at a speed of 128.490 miles per hour.

Flaherty, a 6-foot, 160-pound Chicago tavern owner, paced the speedway's fastest field in history for the last 125 laps to earn a guaranteed purse of $39,200.

But because the track usually throws additional money into the prize fund, the victor, who was driving in his fifth speedway chase, probably will get a larger check at the payoff dinner tonight than the previous high total, $76,138 paid to Bob Sweikert last year. Flaherty got a break in winning too. While he was on his safety lap, the extra four runs by each car to insure covering the full distance, his throttle linkage broke and fell off the car as he headed into the winner's enclosure.

Would Have Lost Had it happened on the previous lap, he would have been unable to maintain speed, and probably Sam Hanks, Pacific Palisades, Calif., who finished only 21 seconds behind, would have beaten him.

Flaherty became the sixth pole winner to win the race, duplicating a feat performed in the past by Jimmy Murphy, Tommy Milton, Billy Arnold, Floyd Roberts and Bill Vukovich. But when Flaherty won the pole, he did it with a record speed lap, 145.056 miles per hour for one lap and 145.536 for four.

For the first few miles Wednesday, in a race which set a track record for accidents with 11, he laid off the blistering pace of more than 142 miles per hour hung up by Paul Russo, Jim Rathmann and Pat O'Connor.

Russo crashed into the wall after 22 laps and both Rathmann and O'Connor were forced to make pit stops to give Flaherty a chance to move ahead after 40 laps. He stayed in front for two turns of the track and then backed off again. After 53 laps he made a 39-second pit stop and after 75 laps he went in front to stay.

Freeland Places Third Don Freeland, Los Angeles, Calif., was third, Johnnie Parsons, the 1950 winner from Van Nuys, Calif., fourth, and Dick Rathmann, Trenton, N. J., fifth.

Flaherty, 30, began racing in 1946, and in 1950, in his first speedway appearance, he finished tenth. In 1953 after driving 115 laps, he crashed into the north-east wall, while in 1954, as a relief driver, he slammed his car into the wall after 110 laps. Last year he was tenth again.

The winner, or for that matter, all of the major money winners, probably got a break due to the swarm of accidents. The 11 pile-ups involved 13 cars and one of them came after the first five cars had finished. It involved Dick Rathmann, who spun on the backstretch after he had finished the grind.

Only three drivers were hurt, none seriously. Jimmy Daywalt suffered a broken leg, head and arm injuries and friction burns after his car collided with the wall and spun, while Tony Bettenhausen suffered a shoulder injury from a similar accident. Rathmann also was injured slightly.

Baltimore Man Goes Berserk in Auto; Leads Police on 95-Mile-Hour Chase

NEW YORK (AP)—A wealthy Baltimore businessman went berserk in a cream-yellow Cadillac Wednesday, leading police on a 95-mile per hour chase in which 18 shots were fired before Memorial Day traffic stopped him.

Five policemen narrowly escaped being run down, two cars were struck and the Cadillac's rear window was shot out. The businessman, Joseph Fisher, 39, was arrested bareheaded and grinning behind dark glasses on a New Jersey superhighway.

Police said before Fisher's capture he had panhandled, double parked, triple parked, driven without a license, escaped from police, dented a police car fender, run red lights, speeded through the Lincoln Tunnel to New Jersey without paying the toll and speeded in New Jersey.

A police surgeon at the Fort Lee, N. J., police station said he found Fisher of "unsound mind" and "incoherent in his speech."

In Baltimore, his wife Mildred said her husband had recently been released from a psychiatric institution and disappeared last Sunday.

"He's not a well boy," Mrs. Fisher said.

UN Command Orders Neutral Truce Supervision Team from Korea

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP)—The United Nations Command today ordered the neutral truce supervision teams expelled from the Republic of Korea for flagrant Communist violations of the armistice and perversion of the truce teams role.

The U. N. Command gave the teams one week to leave the Republic of Korea where the Polish and Czech members have been denounced by President Syngman Rhee as spies. There was no criticism of the Swiss and Swedish members.

U. S. Maj. Gen. R. G. Gard, head of the delegation which ousted the truce teams, told newsmen the U. S. 8th Army will "take necessary action" if the inspectors do not leave. He did not elaborate.

In response to a question he said U. N. military forces in South Korea "are always on the alert for attack."

Ready for Red Move At the same time an official U. N. Command spokesman in Tokyo said U. N. forces were ready to meet any Communist attack if the Reds resume warfare because of the expulsion order — and presumably with atomic weapons that would be flown in from Tokyo.

The U. N. Command told the Communists the expulsions amounted to temporary suspension of some of the armistice regulations until the Reds correct their violations. The major violation was the illegal building up of a North Korean air force.

U. N. sources said the Reds had brought in between 400 and 500 planes into North Korea, about half of them jet fighters and bombers, since the armistice. The armistice provided that forces should be frozen at end of the fighting. The neutral observation teams were formed to check for violations.

A spokesman for the U. N. headquarters in Tokyo said American, Korean and other U. N. units in Korea "are ready" to meet any new Communist aggression in Korea. Both sides are estimated to have about 700,000 troops, with some 50,000 Americans still in Korea.

Stevenson Gains Slim Victory In Florida Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson's drive to capture California's big basket of convention votes got a push from his slim victory over Sen. Estes Kefauver in Florida. But he may regret it.

Stevenson's slight margin of ballots won 22 convention votes for him in Florida's presidential primary Tuesday. Kefauver won only six.

Stevenson said he was "very happy" with the returns. But Kefauver hailed them as a "moral victory." And that is the rub for Stevenson.

Kefauver now more than ever appears ready to picture himself as the underdog during the California campaign, fighting not only Stevenson but the "political bosses." Many observers believe that tactic has proved a big vote-getter for him in the past.

Senate Approves Narcotics Bill By United Press The Senate today overwhelmingly approved a tough narcotics bill calling for penalties ranging up to death for the sale or smuggling of dope.

The measure was approved by a voice vote shortly after the House Ways and Means Committee unanimously approved a similar bill providing stiffer penalties — short of death — for narcotics offenses.

The Senate bill would let juries in federal courts order death for anyone convicted for the third time of selling or smuggling narcotics. It also would permit the supreme penalty for the sale of illegal drugs to youngsters under 18.

Most Valuable Sorority, Fraternity Members Are Named at Southern

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Barbara Furst, Marion, and Carl Anderson, St. Louis, have been named "most valuable" fraternity and sorority members at Southern Illinois university.

Miss Furst, a senior at Southern, is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, and Anderson, a junior, is a member of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity.

The selections were a highlight of Greek Week activities and were announced following student balloting.

Other finalists in the race for the awards were: Betty Ann Frassato, Swanwick senior, Pi Kappa Sigma; Lois Kalla, Chicago senior, Delta Sigma Epsilon; James McKinstry, Pinckneyville senior, Delta Chi; Robert Edgell, Alton senior, Theta Xi; and Wynn Church, Herrin junior, Sigma Pi.

The victory was a repeat performance for Miss Furst and Anderson. Earlier this year they were presented the Service to Southern awards made annually by Theta Xi fraternity.

Clogged Highways Will Be Improved Under Bill Nearing Final Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—The clogged highways on which more than half a hundred Americans died over the Memorial Day holiday will be vastly improved and expanded under new legislation nearing final congressional approval.

The legislation authorizes a new highway construction program that will be the biggest in the nation's history. It already has cleared both House and Senate in slightly varying forms and now is headed for a conference committee which will iron out differences between the two versions.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), chief sponsor of the Senate bill, predicted the committee will agree quickly on a compromise measure. If so, actual work on the new highway program could begin late this summer or early fall. Advance planning for the new program already has started in some parts of the country.

President Eisenhower is expected to approve the measure quickly also. Only last week he placed an improved highway system on his list of priority domestic legislation.

The Senate worked through Tuesday night and until 12:15 a. m. Memorial Day to complete action on its version of the highway bill. The Senate bill carries a $37,200,000,000 price tag, compared with the House measure's $51,500,000,000.

The chief difference to be worked out between the two is the method distributing to the states some 25 billion dollars in federal funds proposed in both bills for a 40,000-mile system of interstate superhighways linking most state capitals and cities of over 50,000 population.

Poet in Hospital

DETROIT (AP)—Edgar A. Guest, long-time poet laureate of the Detroit Free Press, was in "fair" condition today at New Grace Northwestern Hospital. Guest was admitted to the hospital Monday when he suffered a "weak spell."

Record Homers On Memorial Day

NEW YORK (AP)—Big-league baseball saluted Memorial Day, 1956, with the greatest home run barrage in history.

Twenty-six homers were hit in the National League and 24 in the American for a grand total of 50—setting two records and tying another for homer production on a single day.

The NL figure topped the old league record of 25, set on July 16, 1950. The AL total equaled the old league record of 24 set on July 30, 1950, and the grand total erased the old mark of 40 for both leagues, set on Memorial Day, 1950.

Du Quoin Edges Blue Island, 2-1, In State Tourney

PEORIA (AP)—Jim Woods, righthanded junior from Chicago's Lane Tech, set a new strikeout record Wednesday night as he hurled Lane to a 12-0 victory over Belvidere in the Illinois prep baseball tournament.

In other first round contests, Du Quoin edged Blue Island, 2-1. Freeburg turned back Charleston, 10-5, and Limestone shut out Litchfield, 2-0.

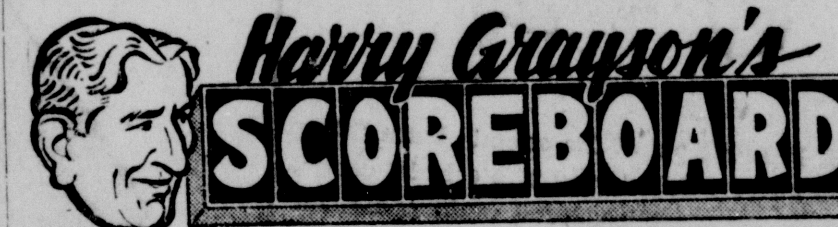

Woods got his eighth win of the season with the help of 18 strikeouts. His feat shattered the record for a seven-inning state tournament game set by John Meil of Bloomington in 1945. Meil sent 17 Rutland batters down with a third strike apiece.

The only Belvidere man to get on base was Ron Anderson, who walked in the first inning and got his team's only hit in the fourth.

Du Quoin scored its first run in the second inning when runners on first and third pulled a double steal, scoring Carol Bridges. Larry Harris scored the second run in the seventh after slamming a triple.

Limestone's Ron Falkenstock struck out 11 batters, walked two and held Litchfield to three hits. Freeburg broke loose in the fifth frame with five runs to fashion its victory margin.

In the semifinals today, Peoria Limestone clashed with Freeburg, and Du Quoin with Lane Tech. The championship was slated to be decided tonight.

Hutch Treats Cards as Adults And They're Playing That Way

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—It didn't take Freddie Hutchinson long to demonstrate that baseball people were right.

The Cardinals of 1955 were the best seventh place club they ever saw.

What's the principal difference between the dispirited aggregation that couldn't wait for last season to end and the supercharged outfit which roared into Brooklyn without having lost a series since it kicked off the spring exhibition schedule with the Yankees in St. Petersburg, March 10?

"The maturing of our second, third and fourth-year men," says the modest Hutchinson, but that isn't what the older heads say.

"Hutch treats the players like adults," explains the Old Red Bird. "He gave the players their heads and they're running that way."

testifies Coach Terry Moore. "He handles the players like professionals, let's them think for themselves, hit and run, steal, etc., on their own."

"For the first time in five years, this club is relaxed on and off the field. Mistakes are corrected without the entire dugout and dressing room being upset. The players are told quietly, but firmly."

Moore, the one-time peerless center fielder, recalls Eddie Stanky wanting the bloopers in the red blazers under his fingers. Mugsy, mimicking Leo Durocher, over-managed. Pitchers pitched with one eye on the dugout, etc. The damage was irreparable when Harry Walker succeeded Stanky rather early last trip. It called for a new deal all-around.

The St. Louis club has a practical baseball man, Frank Lane, at its head for the first time since the late Sam Breadon sold the franchise to Fred Saigh.

"The club is well balanced," stresses Manager Hutchinson. "It has a bench."

Young Don Blasingame, the most valuable recruit in the American Association in 1955, came along to supplant Alex Grammas at shortstop and give the Cardinals more verve and speed.

"The club hadn't got anywhere with Grammas as shortstop," reasons Hutch. "Blasingame is always in there digging."

The Cardinals are no longer suckers for left-hand pitching. Ken Boyer has developed into the big right-hand hitter the club required. Rip Repulski gets needed encouragement batting behind Red Schoendienst, Stan Musial and Boyer.

Harvey Haddix was supposed to be the key Cardinal who went to the Phillies in the deal that brought Murry Dickson and Herman Wehmeier.

"Haddix wasn't doing anything for us and if we waited much longer we couldn't get as much for him," elucidates Hutch. "That's one reason we made the deal."

"Another is that we have to have right-hand pitching to head off the Dodgers and Braves."

Someone remarked that Herman the German Wehmeier's lifetime record against the Cardinals was 0 and 14, added that this should help.

"And he's beaten the Dodgers 15 times," countered Hutch. "That also should help. Dickson lost no time lending us a hand."

Mantle Homers Twice as Yankees Win Doubleheader; Cards Lose Two to Reds

By United Press

The American League pennant race now has become as big a runaway as last year's National League chase, thanks to the fantastic slugging power of Mickey Mantle.

The Oklahoma strong boy crashed a tremendous home run in each game of the Memorial Day doubleheader to lead the New York Yankees to 4-3 and 12-5 wins over Washington — boosting their AL lead to six full games over the Chicago White Sox, the new second-place tenants.

And six games is exactly the margin enjoyed at this holiday milestone last year by the Brooklyn Dodgers as they made a shambles of the NL race.

If Memorial Day goes down in baseball history as the day the Yankees seized command, Mantle must be the man who did it. His two homers not only were the deciding blows in each game, but they put him 11 full games ahead of Babe Ruth's pace in his record 60-homer year.

Never Done Before

In the bargain, Mantle did something even Ruth never did before in Yankee Stadium, "the house that Ruth built."

His fifth-inning three-run homer that decided the first game was the first in history to strike the lattice-work hanging from the roof of stadium in right field. No fair ball ever has been hit out of the stadium, but Mantle's drive just missed clearing the roof by only two feet.

Mantle's 20th homer, putting him one-third of the way to Ruth's mark, traveled 440 feet deep into the right-center bleachers in the fifth inning of the nightcap to break a 3-3 tie, and from there the Yankees went on to finish a 13-hit assault that included two homers by Hank Bauer and one by Eddie Robinson.

The White Sox moved ahead of the Indians by beating them twice, 6-3 and 9-8 in a 10-homer doubleheader that saw two homers each by Vic Wertz and Preston Ward of the Indians and Les Moss of Chicago. The Indians bowed in the nightcap only after scoring six runs in the last of the ninth.

The Baltimore Orioles nipped the Boston Red Sox, 2-1 and 5-4, each time on a last-of-the-ninth run. Bob Nieman singled home the first game winner and Bob Hale did the same in the second. Detroit drubbed Kansas City, 11-3, in their morning game as pitcher Paul Foytack tossed a six-hitter and drove in five runs, and won the second, 5-1, on Virgil Trucks' three-hitter.

Redlegs Take Two Cincinnati scored the only NL sweep and thus took second place from St. Louis by four percentage points. Ray Jablonski's three-run homer made Johnny Klippstein a 6-3 winner over the Cards in the first, and a six-run third-inning gave the Redlegs the second, 6-5, in a game held to seven innings by rain.

A wild twin bill at Chicago saw the Cubs beat Milwaukee, 10-9, in the first game, which included a fight between Russ Meyer of Chicago and Bill Bruton of the Braves, before the Braves took the second, 11-9. Bobby Thomson of the Braves walloped four of the 15 homers in the twin bill and drove in seven runs.

Brooklyn scored six in the sixth to beat Philadelphia, 6-5, in their opener, topping Robin Roberts, but the Phillies smashed 14 hits to win the second, 12-3.

But the New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates worked hardest on the holiday—a total of 25 innings. The Pirates won the 10-inning opener, 5-4, when Dale Long tripled home the winning run to break a streak of 10 hitless at-bats for him, and the Giants took the 15-inning second, 5-3, on Al Dark's two-run double.

Romonosky Hurls Winning Ball for Allentown, Pa.

John Romonosky, Harrisburg professional baseballer with Allentown in the Class A Eastern league, is pitching winning ball, with a record of four victories in five decisions.

Three clippings from the Allentown, Pa., Evening Chronicle, give Romonosky quite a build-up.

A story of May 15 was headed "Romonosky shows class. The story says, in part, 'The top performers last night were Allentown pitcher John Romonosky and shortstop Al Gracolas. The tall right-hander went all the way as he scattered seven Schenectady blows. Romonosky fanned 11 and walked four.'

A story of May 21, about a loss by Romonosky to Albany, the following is related. 'John Romonosky, big Redbird right-hander, turned in a praiseworthy pitching job. He had the victory in his pocket but for errors...'

May 24 Romonosky hurled his best game of the season, a two-hitter against Syracuse. The story states — "Romonosky held the Chiefs to two bingles... Romonosky helped his own cause with a double, driving in Koenig with the final run of the game." Allentown is part of the St. Louis Cardinal farm system.

Tree Program Transforms Barren Land

THESE ARE SPOIL BANKS on Sahara Coal Co. property, where the coal has been stripped from underneath the surface, leaving the overburden showing like hills in the distance. This is the way spoil banks looked generally before the forestation program began taking effect.

A TYPICAL SPOT in the strip mine area is this bank covered with trees and forming a colorful background for the pool of water in front.

THE MAIN ROAD into Sahara 6 mine, a wide, gravelled thoroughfare, is lined with trees planted by the company, as can be seen by the picture above. (All Daily Register Staff Photos)

Sahara Converts Strip Mine Spoil Banks To Areas of Usefulness and Beauty

Million and Half Trees Planted on Company Property

For the past several years those who may have driven on the Saline Four — Carrier Mills road, or through the workings of the Sahara strip mine, may have observed the steady growth of the trees on the spoil banks of the mine without considering why they were there.

They may have even wondered about the tree planting program. For those who have not been informed, it may be stated that the forestation by Sahara under the supervision of the University of Illinois Forestry association and the United States Government Forestry association.

More than one and one-half million trees have been planted in the area disturbed by the strip mining since the program was instituted in 1947.

Leveling Not Practicable

The project was set up as a co-operative research into the possibilities of revegetating and utilizing strip mined areas for stock range and for other purposes.

At first efforts under the program were devoted largely to forestation on unvegetated spoil banks, but the scope of the research has now been narrowed and confined to graded mine land.

Due to the height of the spoil bank at the Sahara operation, and the structure of the material in the spoil bank, leveling has not been practicable, and forestation has been attempted.

Problems encountered have included the lack of response by crops to the type of soil available after the land is disturbed by the stripping operations.

Only 25 Per Cent Soil

The principal soil type that has been disturbed by the Sahara operation is Bluff silt loam. In 1 to 10 rating of soils, this loam ranks eighth, which is relatively poor for agricultural soils in Illinois.

The overburden removed from coal in the stripping operations at Sahara contains as much as 75 per cent shale, sandstone and limestone, leaving only 25 per cent of soil for plant growth. In addition there is a wide range of acidity conditions, so the reclamation of the disturbed area is minimized.

Considering this condition, the dry summers of the past few years, grass fires and other hazards, Sahara's record of as high as 70 per cent survival of the seedling trees planted is most favorable.

Types of Trees Planted

About half the trees planted to date have been Pine, with hardwoods or deciduous trees making up the remainder, including Black Locust, Cottonwood, Soft Maple, Yellow Poplar, Red Gum, Black Walnut, Ash, White Oak, Red Oak, Sycamore, Catalpa and Osage Orange.

Possible future economic value of the plantings remains to be determined, but favorable comment on their appearance is heard. The Pine trees especially, which have been planted largely on the banks along the roadways leading to the tipple site on the Sahara property, give a pleasing appearance in contrast to some areas where the bare spoil banks give an air of desolation.

The stripping operations at the mine have resulted in formation of one large lake and several small ones, and it is likely in the future these will be made available to the public for boating and fishing, and to youth groups such as the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts.

Scientists Add Auto Exhaust Fumes to Possible Cancer Causes

CHICAGO — A group of scientists have added auto exhaust fumes to the list of possible causes of lung cancer.

Dr. E. H. Schulz, assistant director of the Armour Research Foundation, said Monday tests over 11 months with gasoline engine exhaust induced malignant tumors in mice.

However, the scientists who conducted the study made no claim that what happened to mice necessarily happens to humans. Further research is necessary first.

Other scientists have blamed cigaret smoke as partly responsible for the increase of human lung cancer.

HOW COLUMBIA AGRICULTURE LIMESTONE HELPS KEEP YOUR FARM PRODUCTIVE

When you apply COLUMBIA AGRICULTURE LIMESTONE to your farm you accomplish numerous important things at one and the same time.

1. You replace the calcium and magnesium (LIME) which has been lost through cropping.
2. The acid condition of your soil, which has developed as the result of the loss of LIME, is corrected—that is, the soil is "sweetened."
3. The activity of favorable bacteria is stimulated; the decay of organic matter, such as manure straw, roots and stubble, is hastened; and the nitrogen forming processes are promoted.
4. Other plant foods, especially phosphorus, are kept in more available form.
5. Soil structure is improved; heavy clays and silts are made looser and easier to till.

LIME a part of your farm each year. COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE will return at least $3.00 for each $1.00 invested in your liming program. Your COLUMBIA AGLIME DEALER is:

Excavations to Be Resumed at Indian Site

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — An Illinois State Museum archaeological field party will resume excavations June 11 on the oldest dated Indian camp site in the Midwest.

Dr. Thorne Deuel, museum director, said today a crew of 18 scientists and archaeology students will make up the largest field party to work at the site since initial excavations began in 1952.

The site, called Modoc Rock Shelter and located in Randolph county in southern Illinois, has yielded evidence that it was inhabited by humans more than 10,000 years ago. It has been called the earliest Indian site found east of the Rocky mountains.

Melvin L. Fowler, curator of anthropology at the state museum, will head the party for the fourth time since work began there. In last year's "dig," the entire area was excavated to a depth of 12 feet, although a 1953 test pit was sunk 26 feet deep.

Dr. Deuel believes the bottom of the site may lie deeper than the 26 feet reached three years ago. "If it is deeper," he said, "an Indian occupation even earlier than 9,000 B. C. may be found. Perhaps skeletons of mastodons, American camels and other long extinct prehistoric animals may be found there."

Such finds would make Modoc Rock Shelter one of the most outstanding archaeological finds in the United States.

Already it has attained prominence in anthropological circles. Because so many thousands of Indian relics have been found in all its levels of depths, it has become a "measuring stick" to determine dates of similar sites, artifacts and cultures, Fowler said.

So far, the work at Modoc has paid off in changing theories to facts. The archaic culture (an Indian culture known by a hunting and food gathering existence, instead of the earlier hunting existence), previously thought to have begun 5,000 years ago, has now been shown to have started 5,000 years earlier.

Definite indications of the climatic changes wrought in Illinois

CO-WORKERS — Harrisburg's talented Judy Cannan, granddaughter of William Cannan, and lovely Debra Paset chat between scenes on the set of Paramount's "Loves of Omar Khayyam" in which the Illinois lovely is featured prominently as a beautiful harem girl in the court of the Shah of Persia. Possessing all the attributes for a successful career as an actress: beauty, shapely figure (her measurements stack up favorably with such lovelies as Monroe, Gardner, Novak) and above all talented, Judy adds immeasurably to the VistaVision film, which co-stars Debra with Raymond Massey, Michael Rennie, John Derek and Margaret Hayes. by the Wisconsin glacier about 10,000 years ago are also evident at the rock shelter excavation.

Theory that Indians inhabited the Mississippi valley prior to 8,000 B. C. has been substantiated by Carbon 14 tests of campfire charcoal found deep underground at Modoc, proving that human life existed there almost 11,000 years ago, Fowler said.

Already, remains of one extinct bird, the passenger pigeon, have been found at the site. "We hope to add evidence of early prehistoric animals, such as camels, mastodons, mammoths and other long extinct animals," Fowler said.

So far, no Indian skeletons definitely dated earlier than 3,000 B. C. have been found in the United States. Museum scientists believe there is a possibility of finding remains dating back much earlier. The earliest Indian skeletal remains found at the rock shelter date back to about 3,000 B. C.

Business Letters Are Big Cost Item

LOS ANGELES — On a national average, business letters cost employers between $1 to $1.25 per letter and most businessmen are making very little effort to cut down the overhead, a survey shows.

Dr. Erwin Keithly of the business faculty of UCLA recently polled 200 Los Angeles businessmen and learned only 10 had made any attempt to determine how much their business correspondence is costing them, although most of them write more than 1,000 letters a month.

Keithly said his survey showed that businessmen not only failed to realize how much their correspondence was costing their companies, but that they therefore had no program to cut costs.

He said the $1 to $1.25 cost figure included cost of dictation, stenographic time involved, overhead, cost of mailing, stationery, filing and other related charges.

The Give-It-Away Approach

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

From time to time we hear it said that those who want to reduce our huge farm surpluses have the wrong approach. The critics would instead distribute them to needy folk both at home and abroad.

They are speaking, of course, from admirable humanitarian impulses. But their proposals nevertheless betray a sad lack of real thought.

On the foreign front, for example, they commonly point out that there are millions of poverty-stricken people who cannot maintain even a minimum diet for good health.

There is no doubt of it. Yet the record will show that this country again and again has made loans or grants of money and food to people of other lands in distress.
We are not in the habit of sitting idly by while famine and starvation stalk the earth.

It is quite another matter, however, to suggest that we use our rich food reserves in an effort to close permanently the gap between poverty and minimum healthful living for these peoples.

For the most part we could only accomplish that by outright gift, since the needy foreign nations seldom are able to undertake loan arrangements.

Thus we would be engaged in a vast project to subsidize minimum good living standards in many parts of the globe. Much as we want to see those standards raised, in fairness it cannot be asked that America, for all its resources, undertake so colossal and burdensome an enterprise.

By the same token, we could not dole out our extra wheat and corn and dairy products to Americans whose living standards fall below a certain "optimum" level.
Under present law no one need starve in this country. Relief unemployment compensation, aid to the indigent and other benefits cushion or people against the worst economic calamities.

But, once more, it is something entirely different to suggest that beyond this the nation should distribute surplus foodstuffs to the lower economic groups to bring them closer to average levels.

Everybody with a heart wants all Americans to be able to manage a decent, healthful living. But we can't just hand it to those who aren't yet managing it.

We can—and do—build a protective floor to prevent people from falling into the pit of distress. But we cannot erect ladders for them to climb higher.
They have to build their own ladders.

This country has made astounding strides in lifting living standards. With continued development of new materials, new skills and new techniques, we will raise them further.

That is the only route to the humanitarian goals we seek. It is not a path lined with baskets of fruit already picked, ready for the taking. But it is the path which any self-respecting, resourceful people must follow.

AROUND SPRINGFIELD

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN

Four Federal Judges, Five Justices Among Recipients of Pensions

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special)—

Four federal judges and five former state supreme court justices are among an even hundred recipients of benefits from Illinois state judges' and legislators' pension systems, a scrutiny of the list of those sent April pension checks disclosed here today. Also on the list was a former state officer and a former chief justice of the Chicago municipal court.

Data made available at the offices of the two retirement systems disclosed that 63 former judges (including the four now sitting on the federal bench) and 37 former members of the Illinois General Assembly are currently drawing pensions. Also listed as getting pensions under the state employees retirement system are 2,230 former employees who received a total of $187,559 for April.

The four holding federal judgeships after having served in state courts, are Phillip J. Finnegan and Elmer J. Schnackenberg, both of Chicago and sitting on the U.
S. Appeals Court at Chicago; and Caspar Platt, Danville, and Win G. Knoch, Naperville, both U. S. district judges, the former in the Eastern Illinois District at Chicago, and the latter in the Northwestern Illinois District at Chicago.
All four were former circuit judges with Schnackenberg at one time a speaker of the Illinois House of the General Assembly.
Finnegan, 70, and Platt, 64, were named to the federal court by former President Harry Truman.
Schnackenberg, 67, and Knoch, 61, were elevated to the federal bench by President Eisenhower.

The five former state supreme court justices who were sent retirement checks for April are Loren E. Murphy, 74, Monmouth;
Paul G. Farthing, 69, Belleville;
Walter T. Gunn, 77, Danville; Charles Thompson, 70, Harrisburg; and William G. Fulton, 76, Sycamore. All five are now retired except as their legal advice is sought in private practice.

All, according to L. C. Cortright, Springfield, who is secretary of the Judges, General Assembly and State Employees pension systems, qualified for their retirement pay by payments they made into retirement funds while holding office and in reaching the required age for retirement. He said the aggregate amount for judges pensions last month was $21,690, and for legislators, $4,253.

The former state officer listed as getting an April pension check is Ora Smith, Bigsbyville, former state treasurer (1949-50). Smith, 71, served six terms in the Illinois
House (1937-1948) from the old 33rd senatorial district (Mercer, Rock Island and Henderson). The former chief justice of the Chicago municipal court who drew an April pension is Edward S. Scheffler.

Ferry B. Hershey, Taylorville, chief justice of the Illinois Supreme Court, is chairman of the Illinois Judges' Retirement System. State Rep. Hugh Green, Jacksonville, heads the General Assembly Retirement System;
and Roy Tuchbreiter, Chicago, president of the Continental Assurance Company of Chicago, is chairman of the State Employees Retirement System.

Others receiving judges or General Assembly pensions from southern Illinois are:

Judges: Roy E. Boley, Olney;
Lloyd M. Bradley, Carbondale; J.
H. Clayton, Johnston City; J. R.
Funkhouser, Albion; Fred B. Herbert, Murphysboro; Julius C.
Kern, Carbondale; Roy E. Pearce, Carmi; J. E. Harris, Du Quoin;
Louis P. Harris, Du Quoin; Charles J. Huffman, Vienna; Everett Lewis, Benton; M. C. McCallen, Effingham; A. A. Miles, Rosidare; Darce F. Rumsey, Harrisburg; Hal A. Spann, Anna.

General Assembly: Robert J.
Branson, Centralia; John J. Parish, Centralia; Paul Taylor, Effingham; Arthur Van Hooser, Metropolis.

There is no compulsory retirement age for a state judges' pension. To qualify a beneficiary must have reached the age of 60 and been on the bench for 12 years for which he would receive an amount equivalent to 25 per cent of his annual salary. To get the 50 per cent maximum he has to serve 18 years. Experience as members of the state legislature may be added to qualify for judges' pensions.

General assembly members to qualify for a minimum pension of 20 per cent also must have reached the age of 60 and must have served at least four two-year terms. As in pensions for judges there is no compulsory retirement age for legislators. Maximum pension is 50 per cent and to obtain it a state representative or senator must have served 20 years.

Mental Attitude Can Be Illness Factor

CINCINNATI, O. — — — Physicians at the University of Cincinnati Medical College say if you are seriously ill, chances are the sickness is mental as well as physical.

Research teams said they found a definite relationship between psychiatric illness and surgery in 86 per cent of 200 patients examined. They said many suffered to the point where their lives were affected.

The study also showed that in 40 per cent of the cases, mental factors combined with other causes to produce illness which required surgery.

The doctors pointed out that a significant result was that patients with a high degree of anxiety or fear before surgery were more likely to make a better recovery.
This indicated, they said, that some degree of fear and anxiety was helpful in preparing the patient for surgery.

They said two results were especially significant. One was the high percentage of patients who, because of personality factors, aggravated their illness and even endangered their lives by delaying surgical help.

The other result was the search still being carried on at the university to find what factors cause improvement or aggravation of patients' condition after surgery.

Oil Men's Meeting, Barbecue June 14 At Mt. Vernon, Ind.

Independent Oil Producers will enjoy an all day old fashioned Kentucky style barbecue starting at noon Thursday, June 14, at the Farm Bureau Recreation park,
Mt. Vernon, Ind.

It's the occasion of the annual meeting for the Independent Oil Producers and Land Owners association, Tri-State (Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky). The group will study several problems affecting the industry, state and national. The announcement was made by Alfred A. Kiltz, president of the association and also manager of Farm Bureau Oil company.

Royalty owners, investors and land owners owning interest in oil production as well as employees and service companies who depend on an income directly or indirectly, will probably constitute the greater part of those who are expected to attend. Their problems relating to certain operations, crude oil price, property taxes and the depletion tax provisions are becoming increasingly important.

The all day meeting, in addition to the business sessions and the election of officers, will include a golf tournament starting at 8 a.
m. on the Refinery golf course under the supervision of Wayne Clark, one of Evansville's leading golf pros. There will also be entertainment and refreshments.

The feature attraction to many oil men and land owners will be a guided tour of the modern up-to-date refinery between the hours of 3 to 5 p. m.

Mr. Kiltz said anyone may attend by communicating with the association office in Evansville by mail or telephone on or before June 8, the deadline on reservations.

Dr. Thacker drew an X on the map. "This is rendezvous point. Sheltered cover here—quite isolated. A sentry will be on the hill behind you with a beacon light. A few minutes before midnight he will blink three times to the submarine. This signal will be repeated every five minutes until the submarine surfaces and returns the signal. A party will row ashore in rubber boats and take you aboard. Is that all clear?"

Everyone nodded. "Where are you going now, Thanassis?" Michael asked. "I must go out for a while," he replied. "Are all your arrangements completed?" "All my arrangements are quite completed," Thanassis answered. He turned on his flashlight and made his way through the cellar to the ladder and disappeared through the trapdoor.

"He acts rather odd, sometimes," Dr. Thacker observed. "I wonder if he is getting nervous?" Thanassis had lost much more of his scholarly calm a little later. "You told me that my share would be 20 million drachmas!" "Dear fellow," Julius Chesney waited, dramatizing their mutual plight. "Twenty million was all I could get from Heiler. We agreed to split, 50-50. This is your share, 10 million."

Thanassis counted the 10 million drachmas. He was gone beyond return with Chesney and, although he knew he was being cheated, he had no choice now. It was a cheat's game. He placed the money in his pocket. "Very well. You have all the details." Heiler was already at the bar and poured himself a half tumbler of Scotch. Julius Chesney unfolded a map of the province of Attica-Botia and placed it on the bar. "Morrison and Lisa are departing from Athens at 7:30 tonight."

"Where are they?" "Apparently they are changing hideouts every hour, so no one is absolutely certain. It also seems they have mapped a half dozen alternate ways of leaving Athens, so I cannot give you specifics on that, either."

"Go on..." "What I do know is this: A submarine will contact them at this point. Now, gentlemen, they leave Athens at 7:30. At 8:15 they are to rendezvous with Lisa's sons who are hiding somewhere on the outskirts. From there they dash by car to Marathon. Chesney's pencil drew a line past the town of Nea Makri and farther north past Soros. His pencil stopped at a heavily forested area on the coast. "There is a cove at this point. They are due to arrive at the cove five minutes before midnight, using an approach from the south."

Heiler studied the map for several moments. He turned to Zervos. "Do you know this area?" "Yes. It is perfect—well chosen for a submarine. Quite isolated—many coves, smooth sea, good cover with a forest in the background and no towns or troops for miles."

"At midnight," Chesney said, "a sentry will signal for the submarine to surface."

Two-Day Teachers' Workshop Will Open at SIU June 5

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A two-day Southern Illinois teachers' workshop on a continuing course of language arts study in intermediate and high school grades will open at Southern Illinois university June 5. Co-sponsors are the Southern Illinois Association of English Teachers, the SIU English department and the SIU Extension Division.

Miss Ellen Burkhardt, Benton high school English teacher and president of the association, says the workshop idea is the result of discussions at the organization's spring meeting at SIU April 21. Most of the persons attending the meeting indicated interest in revising the English program in order that there may be a unified continuing course of study to provide minimum essentials in communication skills for grades four through 12.

Officers of the association will be chairmen of four workshop sectional sessions during the two days, each dealing with certain grade levels. The workshop consensus report will be presented at the association's autumn meeting. Sectional leaders, in addition to Miss Burkhardt, will be Mrs. Helen Adams, Cairo; Mrs. Agatha White, Murphysboro; and Roy Weshinsky, Carbondale.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a. m. June 5 at University school.

Baby Well Supplied With Grandparents

GALVESTON, Tex. — Cheryl Jean Carnes doesn't lack for the loving attention of grandparents. She has 11.

Cheryl Jean, three-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Carnes, was the center of attraction here recently at a five-generations gathering.

Present were grandmother Mrs. Anita Bynum, Galveston; great-grandmother Mrs. Bola Lonsford, Overton, Tex.; and great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Duncan, 80.

Other grandparents include Mrs. Carnes' father, J. A. Bynum and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bynum, all of Dallas; Carnes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Carnes of Galveston and F. W. Carnes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Carnes of Bradford, Ark. Mrs. F. W. Carnes' mother, Mrs. Vennie Powell, lives at Hope, Ark.

Heiler was on his feet pacing the room. "We must triple the guard around Athens. I will move a battalion of men along the escape route. Another company will cover the rendezvous point."

"Just a minute, dear fellow. Just a minute," Chesney halted Heiler. "You paid 50 million drachmas for this information. I would truly be embarrassed if you did not come up with Mr. Morrison."

"Exactly what do you mean?" "First off, you are underestimating your opposition. They have men posted observing all of your road-blocks out of Athens. They also have a man going in advance of their main party to make sure the route is clear. At the first indication of trouble they are either going to use an alternate or return to hiding. The moment you blanket the area with troops they'll call it off."

"He makes good sense, Konrad," Zervos said. "You know as well as I do that Morrison could hide inside Athens for 15 years and you'd never find him. Also, if he is forced into hiding again the Steragious list may be passed to the British by anyone. Thus far, Morrison has refused to give it up."

The German was annoyed with himself. Yes, he'd certainly bungle things if he tried to use 5000 troops.

"All right. What do you suggest?" "I suggest that you leave Athens immediately and try to get north of Marathon. That way you could come in from the south and avoid their lookouts. You can slip into the rendezvous area at dark with, say, 20 or 30 heavily armed men and await their arrival."

Heiler again studied the map and pondered. He looked to Zervos and Zervos nodded in agreement.

"Very well. We leave Athens right away. Zervos, get the road-blocks lifted around the city and pick 30 of our best men. We meet in an hour and drive north of Marathon and wait till dark. Then we move to the cove."

"Now you talk sense," Chesney said.

"By all means, dear fellow, by all means. I wouldn't miss this for the world."

Notes from Teen Town

By Joan Seright

Here we are again ready for the latest from the Penthouse. I've got lots of news for ya so let's "get with it."

I think first on my list should be to think Mr. and Mrs. Ray Durham for their donation. They chaperoned at Teen Town not long ago and after seeing how badly we needed a ping pong table they sent us a new one. That sure did help the cause and we all appreciate it.

Mrs. Carl Rude, president of the Senior Board, has been asked to send a copy of our Teen Town Constitution to Norris City and Carrier Mills. We assume by this that they are planning to organize a Teen Town of their own. If their Teen Town is open on nights ours is not, some of our members might enjoy membership in those Teen Towns. Our first loyalty is to our own, but it is nice to attend other Teen Towns sometimes. Anyway, we wish luck to them and hope they are very successful.

Good news for you boys who just don't like those Bermuda shorts! Well, short shorts are coming back in fashion. Of course they aren't worn up at Teen Town but they are sure cool in "the good ole' summer time."

I want to remind you kids again about the Teen Town cards. Those of you who bought a card for a year will have to buy a new one Friday. . . . Some of you have cards that don't expire for some time but keep a watch on the date.

See Ya Friday . . . Joan

RECEIVE HIGH AWARDS AT RIDGWAY HIGH SCHOOL—Honors Day was held at Ridgway high school the morning of Tuesday, May 29, and these three students were the recipients of four of the top awards. New Plan for Commissions For Chaplains WASHINGTON (AP)—Theology students can now become second lieutenants while still in school.

Over a thousand Army commissions are available for potential chaplains who can qualify for appointment. They will be trained to fill vacancies in the Reserve and National Guard.

The Army said that in order to qualify for its "second lieutenant program" each candidate must:

1. Be a full-time student at a recognized seminary and be between the ages of 18 and 30.
2. Have completed 120 hours of undergraduate work and have the approval of his church denomination.
3. Agree to serve at least two years and meet the general requirements of a commissioned officer.

Since seniors can apply directly for commission as first lieutenants, this program is aimed at first and second-year students.

The Army said seniors who are not fully ordained after graduation can attend the Chaplain School at Fort Slocum, N. Y. It said they can train there after graduation for appointment as second lieutenants.

The eight-week summer course at the school is available both to graduates and undergraduates. The school also maintains an extension department for further studies.

Single students at the school get $877 for the eight weeks of training while married ones receive about $711. They also are given $200 for uniform allowances and expenses to and from school.

After graduation, a reserve chaplain earns anywhere from $500 to $1,000 a year. The army said it's possible to serve a civilian parish and train with the local reserve unit.

The Army wants qualified students who are interested to write to the Office, Chief of Chaplains, Department of the Army, Washington, 25, D. C.

SIU Journalism Students Seek to Aid Korean Co-ed

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The plight of a Korean co-ed, Mary Choy, has spurred her fellow students in the Southern Illinois university Journalism Students' association to do something about keeping her at SIU.

A 21-year-old freshman journalism student from Seoul, South Korea, Miss Choy has been attending SIU under a one-year scholarship for foreign students. She has had her share of hardship, yet her warm personality, bright smile, high scholarship, and participation in student activities has won the hearts of her classmates. Her father's suffering as a prisoner of North Korea during the savage conflict in her homeland resulted in his death.

Recently, Miss Choy's classmates discovered she must have financial assistance to remain at SIU next year. A scholarship was available from another university, but she would like to remain at SIU.

The upshot of it all is that members of the Journalism Students' association, none of whom are well supplied with personal funds, are planning money-raising projects to obtain cash for a JSA scholarship to go to needy students such as Miss Choy. The first project will be a car-washing day June 2 (Saturday) for which journalism students now are drumming up business, says D. Wayne Rowland, faculty sponsor of the organization.

Canada and the United States are the only countries in the world having a surplus rather than a shortage of food.

Home Design Expert Says Kitchen On Way Out as a Separate Room

By ALFRED LEECH
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (AP) — The dining room was the first to go, and now a design expert says the kitchen is on its way out.

Frank Carloti contends that the kitchen as a separate room is about as outmoded as the wash tub and the corrugated scrub board.

Carloti, market specialist for the Dave Champman industrial design office, said the "kitchen of tomorrow" will be part of a single, large family-living area.

He sounds enthusiastic about it, too.

But in an unguarded moment he will tell that separate kitchens are expensive, and doing away with them would help builders keep the price of small homes within reach.

Old Fashioned Notions

"The separate kitchen will disappear because it is no longer useful in the way it was intended," Carloti expounded.

"There was a need for a closed-in kitchen when food preparation was a messy kind of drudgery."

"But now, with automatic appliances and with food coming into the house pre-cleaned, frozen, packaged, and sometimes even pre-cooked, most of the labor and mess have been done away with."

Carloti said householders should shed their old fashioned notions and "forget all the corny jokes about dishwashing and kitchen drudgery."

"These activities can be fun for the whole family," he said, and with a straight face, too.

So far, Carloti said, the trend has been to bring kitchen equipment into the living area with "perhaps no more change than the addition of color."

"But for the home of tomorrow," he said, "designers are giving kitchen appliances, cabinets and furnishings a graceful 'living room look'."

He said dining tables will be equipped with outlets for "hand-some new appliances" which already are available. These are designed not only for cooking but for keeping food at proper temperatures.

And just how will the housewife like the idea of cooking in full view of her guests?

"Exhibition cooking adds a note of showmanship that appeals to both the man and woman of the house," Carloti said.

He said the cook takes on "added glamor."

Church and Relief Agencies to Expand Overseas Shipments of Surplus Food

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Church-sponsored relief agencies plan to double their free shipments of surplus American food to the hungry families overseas during the coming year—if foreign aid chief John B. Hollister will let them.

U. S. voluntary agencies, such as Church World Service, Catholic Relief Services and the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, have sent abroad about 800 million pounds of butter, cheese, flour, corn products, dried milk and other surplus farm commodities during the current fiscal year.

These foods, donated to the agencies by the Agriculture Department out of its eight-billion-dollar board of farm surplus, have supplemented the near-starvation diets of upwards of 10 million families in 67 countries. Among other things, the program has provided a glass of milk a day for millions of foreign children.

Plan Sharp Stepup

During the new fiscal year which starts July 1, the agencies hope to step up the program sharply, with total shipments of more than 1.2 billion pounds. Even that much food, they say, would barely begin to meet the needs of the millions of "chronically hungry" families in other lands.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson has told the agencies they can have all of the surplus foods they can haul away. That's where Hollister comes into the picture.

Hollister's International Cooperation Administration is authorized by law to pay ocean freight on surplus foods donated to private relief groups by the Agriculture Department. The relief agencies asked for a "minimum" of 25 million dollars for ocean freight in the coming fiscal year. But Hollister, before transmitting the request to Congress, cut the figure to 12 million dollars.
